Price adjustment notification

On 1 May 2020, NHP will be implementing a weighted list price adjustment of approximately 10% across our industrial product portfolio, excluding Rockwell Automation products. This is in line with an ever-increasingly competitive market environment and the necessity to maintain our quality product and service promise - a promise that we are proud to have delivered to our local markets for over 50 years.

NHP continues to invest in improving accessibility to online product information and the ordering portal accessed from our corporate website. Providing customers with the ability to place orders online with free delivery, NHP's online portal also allows registered users to check price and availability of the extensive NHP product portfolio, create and review open quotes and access in-depth technical information.
